1. Milovan Djilas, recently elected President of the Yugoslav parliament and prominent member of the Executive Committee of the Federation of Yugoslav Communists, is definitely guilty of deviating from Leninism. He ignored the basic communist concept of the necessity of time for the development of communism, particularly in a poor, backward country like Yugoslavia which is unprepared for the changes suggested by Djilas. His crime is that he introduced confusion into the ranks of Yugoslav communists, thus weakening the very trend toward an era of democracy which he desires.
2. There is evidence that Cominform elements, recognizing Djilas' deviation, encouraged his action in an attempt to weaken the government.
3. Djilas' activities have already made the work of the Yugoslav security organs more difficult.
